Plans Laid For New Bardstown Road Country Club and Golf Course

An organization meeting to form a new country and golf club in the rapidly-expanding Bardstown Road area was held Thursday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bischoff, Buechel.

Mr. and Mrs. Bischoff have purchased "Wildwood Farm," the large stock farm of A. A. Fischer, president of the Henry Buechel Company, at Bardstown Road at Waterson Trail, about midway between Buechel and Fern Creek, at a reported price of $175,000.

They have given an option for $150,000 for the larger portion of the tract to Robert P. Minion, Sr., real estate officer of the First National-Kentucky Trust Company, for the club.

The Fischer residence, a 12-room brick structure, is to be converted into a club house. The Fischers, however, will not give possession until next fall to give them an opportunity to dispose of some fine show cattle.

Mrs. Bischoff said Thursday that arrangements for developing the golf course will begin immediately. Damming of Fern Creek to form a large lake is among the plans.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bischoff feel that the club is much needed as a large number of business and professional men have approached them concerning membership since the plans were revealed.

A get-together meeting was held last week to talk over preliminary plans and to select two bring two interested persons each to the gathering this week for the organization session.

The remaining of the estate to be developed for residential sites, it was said.

Bischoff is owner of the Stock Yards Poultry Company and has various real estate interests.

Corn, Soybean Support Price Is Announced

The support price for corn and soybeans at a National average has recently been announced—advance of spring planting—by the Agricultural Act of 1949.

The support for corn has been announced at a minimum level on a National average of $1.00 per bushel. This rate is subject to upward bias if 90% of the crop for the beginning of the 1952 marketing year next October is more than the guaranteed rate. In an event, however, will the support for corn be lower than a National average of $1.00 per bushel. Support for 1951-crop corn is $1.57.

The support for 1952-crop soybeans has been set at a fixed level of $2.25 per bushel, which reflects 80% of parity as of November 15, 1951. The support for 1951-crop soybeans is $2.45 per bushel.

With all legal barriers cleared, the Buechel Water District has taken steps for immediate extension of its service to Fern Creek. Contracts for the construction of meter vaults and other necessary improvements in the service were signed Wednesday night.

The final legal obstacle was hurdled Wednesday afternoon when County Attorney Lawrence G. Duncan informed R. Davis McAfee, attorney for the District, that the District could proceed without objection from Jefferson County officials.

Earlier at a meeting of Fiscal Court, Duncan said that a public hearing on the matter would be necessary. A week ago Fiscal Court ordered the District to post a $150,000 bond to insure repair of county roads in case of damage. The District termed the amount excessive.

Smith's Weekly Digest of Actions Of 1952 State General Assembly

By Tom Smith

The Kentucky General Assembly has cleared its major legislative session and is coasting toward a pre-sundown sine die adjournment on March 18.

In the previous few decades the sessions have lasted until the final midnight hour on adjournment day. On occasion, however, on the clocks in the legislative chambers have been stopped to allow time for passage of legislation in rush sessions.

Rules committee took over on Wednesday. This measure, if legislation must clear them before it can be brought to a vote.

Remaining as a chief matter of controversy in the Senate is the so-called "dog bill" which has the backing of farm and livestock interests.

The House-approved measure introduced by Caldwell-Triggs Representative William E. Jones, has come under bitter attack from humane societies and dog lovers from practically every sector of Kentucky.

Jones said the bill is needed to protect livestock from stray dogs and to halt the spread of rabies. Kennel clubs and humane societies oppose the measure.

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES, JR.
JONES UNIVERSITY
SOUTH CAROLINA

It is true that anything can be proved by the Bible if one has no regard for truth and is willing to take a fragment of a verse here and another fragment of a verse there and put them together. Satan deludes to misquote and misinterpret. I know nothing sadder than the way these poor people are deluded by Satan and mislead by some preachers. They base their strange practice of handling scriptures on the sixteenth verse of the sixteenth chapter of the Gospel of Mark which declares: "They shall not tempt you, if they think any devil by thing it shall not hurt them; they shall have the sick and the lame, they shall recover."

Just why they attempt to prove their faith by picking up verses and not drinking poison is one of the things nobody can understand or explain.

The message of the verse in Mark is very plain in the light of its context. The Holy Spirit is saying that under certain circumstances when a man is doing God's will and is in the plan and purpose of God He will be able to do it.

—Reflected by the Gospel Fellowship Association.

JEFFERSONSTOWN
The Jeffersontown Homemakers Club will meet Tuesday, March 18th at 10:00 A.M. with Mrs. Mark Gresham. The major project of the meeting will be, "One Dish Meal."

BUCHTEL
The monthly meeting of the Buchtel Homemakers was held March 6, at the home of Mrs. W. M. Helton on Kings Highway with 23 members present.

The new By-Laws were read for the third time and the Club voted unanimously to accept them, copies are to be made and each member is to receive one at our next meeting.

Our project leader, Mrs. Hayes gave us pamphlets of recipes to help us serve "Money saving main dishes."

Mrs. Deutsch, reading chairman, gave a very entertaining book review of "My Cousin Rachel" by Daphne du Maurier.

A delightful salad luncheon was served by the co-hostess, Miss Phyllis Remmel, and was followed by a recreation period for the fun of an exercise.

The balance of the meeting was taken up in discussion as to what projects we would be most interested in, and it was agreed that Community Service would be one. A decision was made that all members make and bring to the next meeting aprons which our Citizen Chairman, Mrs. Stevens, prepared for some of the inmates at Lakeland. This has been done before by our club and was gratefully received and appreciated.

Next meeting on the home of Mrs. H. L. Brown on Glenhurst Avenue—Mrs. Karl D. Malone, publicity Chairman.

After lunch the Club was privileged to have Mrs. Rhodes speak to the members on "The United Nations." The talk was very informative and gave everyone a better understanding of the tremendous job the United Nations is doing. At the end of her talk she asked each member how she would feel about putting the United Nations above the United States. No one could answer but everyone went away knowing that it was something to think about.

In Office Too Long
Another thing that contributes to political delinquency is continuing any one man too long in office. Elected officers should be changed frequently in order to keep them responsive to public interests. During his first year of office, an official makes his real contribution to the country, the state or municipality. When he attempts to perpetuate himself in office by building up a cash fund, and by increasing the number on the public payroll, while at the same time declaiming his indispensability and pronouncing that a state of emergency exists with which only he can cope, then it is high time to disperse with his services and retire him to private life.

This applier of an alderman, a mayor, a state legislator, a member of Congress, or even to a president of the United States. Yes, politicians can be fair and honest if we, the electors, demand it of them and refrain from using them as tools by means of which to plunder the taxpayers' money.

As to the politicians who just naturally are "bad ones," they can be taken care of very nicely by an aroused electorate—they just can't stay in office against the wishes of the people.

Come next November 4, if we are smart, we can see to it that a number of our present public office holders start looking for new employment—for jobs the salaries of which will not come out of the public treasury.

RECIPENT
James Hedden, Jr.

They aspire to serve their fellow citizens well—they embark on the path of public service. They zeal to do a thorough, unselfish job of cleaning up corruption and administering honestly, capably and economically the public affairs entrusted to their control and guidance. The exceptions to this rule are few.

Hat On The Peg
But, the new political electee barely has time to hang his hat on the peg provided by the taxpayers' money before the onslaught begins. Individuals, committees, pressure groups, corporations, mendicants, cranks, chiselers, social reformers and legions of other beseige him for this favor and that handout—nearly all of them making selfish, unreasonable demands upon him to crack open the public treasury and give them some of the loot.

"Tis a hardy soul, indeed, who can withstand this bombardment of patronage panhandlers and courts, always obviously illegal even to any moderately intelligent laymen, should have been allowed to function all these years. Maybe it was lack of organized protest. Perhaps it was reluctance on the part of individuals to appeal, single-handed, to the General Assembly and the Governor to put through a statute abolishing an institution that never did have a right to exist.

"Keep At It"
I don't have time right now to look it up, but I'm pretty sure judges profiting by their own decisions were forbidden in Caesar's Commentaries, 2,000 years ago. Certainly their existence has been a violation of basic law ever since English courts of limited jurisdiction were established.

On the senate floor the other day, Governor Wetherby said, "Keep after it!" That's what I'm going to do.

courts profiting by their own decision. Others in Frankfort think a bill could be passed before the end of this session of the legislature.

Since the Supreme Court of the United States has ruled that courts with fee-paid judges have no right to pass judgment to their own profit, a change in the law now could be made before the incumbent magistrates serve out their terms. If the law is changed after a new set of magistrates are elected, whatever snarl might be caused now would have to be settled then. The Revisions Bureau will clear this up. I'm only bringing it up.

Forty Years of Girl Scouting

GIRL SCOUTS LOOK BACK 40 YEARS. More than a million and a half Girl Scouts in every state are celebrating their organization's 40th anniversary. Founded in Savannah, Ga., March 12, 1912, by Juliette Gordon Low, Girl Scouting has grown continuously in size and popularity through four decades. Although Girl Scouts today wear trim green uniforms instead of the bulky khaki outfits of yesteryear, they haven't changed much in their interests: home-making, camping, international friendship, nature study, and community service have always been favorite activities.

Ten New 4-Apartment Buildings Approved For St. Matthews Area

The City-County Planning and Zoning Commission Tuesday approved an apartment project on the northeast corner of Westport Road and Ridgeway Avenue. Owners of the property, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oliver, according to Samuel Steinfield, plan to erect about 10 buildings of four apartments each. The buildings will face Ridgeway and will be east of three apartment buildings already constructed.

At the same time, the commission denied an application of James J. Butler, Sr. to rezone property north of Shelbyville Road, 1,600 feet west of LaGrange Road, from residential to commercial.

Acting Director A. J. Regneri the commission said commercial construction at the point would create additional traffic hazards and in addition sanitary-sewers are not available at the site at the present time.

Survey Shows 'Coffee Break' Aids Output

NEW YORK—Taking a break during the work day to have a cup of coffee no longer is considered time-wasting. Today the coffee break is recognized as a valuable production tool by U.S. business and industry.

This is revealed in a survey of 1,100 companies—large, medium and small—in 45 states, the results showing that sanctioned coffee breaks have become a force for good morale, better production and savings in labor and materials—important advantages in a time of defense orders.

Conducted by Fact Finders Associates for the Pan-American Coffee Bureau, the survey further indicates that the authorized coffee break has risen sharply in popularity since World War II. It is firmly established as an American "institution."

Management and Labor

Just how solidly the coffee break has become entrenched is shown by statistics involving both management and labor. Of the companies authorizing coffee breaks, 46 per cent report they mention these rest periods in recruiting new workers; 25 per cent say such breaks are required by union contracts.

On the other hand, management recognition of the session's value is pointed up by the 78 per cent who have instituted these time-out sessions of their own accord.

Actually, the coffee break represents the reform of what was once considered a time-wasting habit: coffee by stealth. The cost, in time and money, of "running out" for coffee was a staggering loss to U.S. business until a number of progressive firms turned it to their advantage.

Advantages Cited

What these specific advantages are is indicated by the following answers from the companies polled by Fact Finders:

The majority—82%—note a reduction in worker fatigue; 75% report improvement in employee morale; 62% say worker productivity has increased; and 32% note a reduction in employee turnover. Other answers include "reduction in scrap material" and "less absenteeism."

"Operation Coffee Break" in the New York City office of Mutual Life Insurance Company provides a good example of the dollar value of the coffee break.

Mutual discovered that 800 people used to leave their desks to go for coffee, each one taking about 15 minutes. Now eight mobile carts appear every morning to provide "breakfast-at-your-desk" service to Mutual's 2,000 employees. Mutual estimates an annual saving of $130,000 in labor costs.

Of the companies surveyed, the

PVT. AND MRS. GRAHAM MAKE HOME IN BUECHEL

Miss Audrey Louise Kendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ulric Kendall, of Buechel, became the bride of Pvt. Albert C. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton E. Graham, also of Buechel, at 8 p.m. Saturday, March 8, in Eden-side Christian Church. The Rev. George Swann performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride's gown (designed by her) was a chiffon velvet with taffeta skirt and an overskirt of nylon net. Her veil of illusion was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried white Japanese orchids and white roses.

S/Sgt. Daisy Johnson was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Misses Corine Graham, Mary Ruth Alliger, Ann Elizabeth Simpson, Regina Crumshaw and Mrs. Verna Lee Frey. Miss Sandra Senninger was flower girl.

The attendants were gowned in graduated shades of pink with overskirts of net, and matching muffs. They carried bouquets of gladioli, Japanese iris, baby chrysanthemums and fern. The flower girl wore blue and carried a basket of rose petals.

Mr. Norman Smith Regenauer was best man and the bridesmaids were William Marion Graham, Jerry Levy and Jack Hoff. The ring-bearer dressed in white, was James Robert Graham.

Miss Joyce Kemp sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Miss Joyce Murray at the organ.

A reception was held in the church basement. Upon the return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Graham will be at home in their apartment on Fegenbush Lane.

Electronic Brain Passes Final Exams

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—The "electronic brain" which the University of Illinois has been building since 1949 has passed its "final examination."

Its memory capacity is twice as great as that of any other similar computer with computer with cathode ray memory tubes now operating. It can store away 1,024 numbers, and recall any of them in one-thirtieth of a second.

It can do 10,000 additions a second. In one thousandth of a second it can multiply a pair of numbers like 540,755,813,697 times 540,755,813,697—which is 15 digits in the decimal system but 39 in the binary system which the machine itself uses.

It has an almost-human ability to follow a complicated series of instructions, carrying on an mathematical operation after another, remembering results, and deciding, sometimes from the answers to calculations just made, what to do next.

In five hours it can do calculations that would take 50 years—a working lifetime—for a man with an ordinary electric "adding machine" type calculator.

In two weeks it can solve a prob-
